

Inspiration. Vision. Cultured Stone®

There's a reason Cultured Stone® veneer has been a leader for half a century. We combine art and science to replicate natural stones and we're constantly revisiting and reinventing our products to anticipate and respond to changing tastes.

Cultured Stone® veneers draw inspiration from leading architects and designers to ensure our products remain on the leading edge of today's architectural trends. With the breadth of our palette and our latest product innovations, Cultured Stone® veneer can bring your vision to life.

Hudson Bay® Southern Ledgestone
Cover: Hudson Bay® Country Ledgestone

Wolf Creek® Dressed Fieldstone

A Solid Choice

Cultured Stone® veneer creates an immediate and lasting impression of permanence and beauty. With more than 100 colors and 21 textures, Cultured Stone® offers the industry's widest design selection, lending authenticity and character to any structure. Homes that feature Cultured Stone® veneers have a 10% higher perceived value*.

The quality and craftsmanship built into Cultured Stone® veneers is verified through industry-leading testing, including compliance with the ICC Evaluation Service's AC-51 standard. And, Cultured Stone® products have the industry's only GREENGUARD Children & Schools certification, which means they meet stringent indoor air quality standards. Cultured Stone® manufactured stone veneer is also the first National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) green approved product.

When you consider all of the benefits, it's no wonder Cultured Stone® veneers were ranked Number One in usage and quality by the 2012 Builder magazine Brand Use Study.

Visit www.culturedstone.com for more information about our industry-leading stone veneers.

* Info Group/ORC independent research study February 2010. 2,000 sq ft, 3 bedroom / 2 bath new construction home, with standard shingle roof, wood siding and $355,393 base price.

Echo Ridge™ Country Ledgestone

Introducing Six New Colors

At Boral Stone Products our new product introductions are the result of extensive research and input from more than 100 architects, builders and designers from across the U.S. and Canada. Thanks to their active participation, we remain on the forefront of architectural and design trends.

The newest additions to our portfolio are striking, refreshingly unique and perfectly in tune with the look and feel demanded by today's consumers.

Echo Ridge™ Country LedgeStone

Containing weathered edges in an array of platinum, steel and bronzed greens, Echo Ridge Country LedgeStone is extremely fresh in appearance and communicates the feeling of the finest natural stone. This magnificent ledgeStone would complement Prairie, Craftsman and Contemporary homes, or commercial building exteriors and interiors.

Black Isle™ Del Mare LedgeStone®

The striking Black Isle colorway is reminiscent of age-old castles. With its heady darks, warm charcoals, cool browns and fir greens, Black Isle is ideally suited for installation in areas populated with evergreen trees and bluer green foliage. This stone can evoke medieval imagery and is best used on various European architectural styles that demand a dramatic and specific look.

Hudson Bay® Southern LedgeStone

Hudson Bay is inspired by a host of nature's loveliest khakis, rich browns and earth tones with a hint of warm charcoal. This extraordinarily beautiful stone is appropriate for many architectural styles, including Craftsman, Prairie and Ranch. Hudson Bay is also versatile enough for commercial applications.

Black Isle™ Del Mare LedgeStone®

Wolf Creek® Dressed Fieldstone

Encompassing an assortment of buckskin, raisin, sienna brown and cream, Wolf Creek truly feels as if it was gathered from the land. The stone's edges impart a particularly aged appearance that perfectly complement Country French, Tuscan, Virginia Hunt Country and Ranch architectural styles. A sense of permanence makes Wolf Creek seem as if it has been around for ages.

Sevilla™ Ancient Villa LedgeStone™

For those who want a rich, understated stone, Sevilla is an outstanding choice. Full of Old World patina, Sevilla's earth-inspired tones are balanced between cool grays and warm chestnut browns. Ideal installations include Country French, Virginia Hunt Country, Tuscan or Andalusian architecture and a variety of commercial applications.

Nightfall™ Watertable/Sill

To enhance any architectural statement, Nightfall delivers a rich dark counterpoint. For use with any Cultured Stone® veneer product that has this color as a major or minor accent.